The Episcopal Diocese of Texas
Office of the Bishop

February 9, 2010

Dear Wardens and Vestry Members:

As stewards of our church buildings, our resources, and our congregations, one of the most important things we can do is to prepare for emergencies.

Too often we think of a disaster as something that affects other people and other parishes. However, we must realize that our own parishes are vulnerable to events that could devastate our communities and congregations. Through preparedness, we acknowledge that vulnerability, consider the worst-case scenarios affecting our congregation, and take precautions to minimize their effects.

In addition, our advance preparation can equip us to respond to crises in our communities and beyond. This should be a goal of every congregation.

To that end, this guide presents suggestions helpful to creating an emergency plan for your parish. By simply working through the pages and filling in each provided blank, you will create a basic and complete emergency plan.

However, I encourage you to go deeper, and to utilize this guide as a discussion starter. Examine the particular needs and abilities of your congregation to craft a unique and practical parish emergency plan.

Faithfully,

[Signature]

C. Andrew Doyle, D.D.
IX Bishop of Texas
Emergency planning is a unique process for every parish, church, and faith community. This guide is intended to provide a framework for that process, but by no means does it address every individual concern of each parish.

The simplest way to use the guide would be to remove the front six pages of introduction and fill in each blank that follows.

However, the best way to use this guide is to destroy it; take out the staples, tear apart the pages, and put them back together in a way that works for your parish. Add in maps and phone trees and information important to your faith community. Make it a living document, under constant review, practice, and revision.

Whichever means you choose, share your status as a prepared church with us. Submit the summary at the end to The Venerable Russ Oechsel, Archdeacon and Diocesan Emergency Coordinator at the Episcopal Diocese of Texas so that we know you’ve taken this important step.

And let us know how we can help; don’t hesitate to ask questions, make requests, and dig deeper. Additional resources and support are available to your parish.

Becoming prepared is one of the most important things a parish can do. We don’t know what will affect us or when, but we can make provisions to ensure that whatever happens won’t leave us hopeless or helpless.

Assembling a Team

Parish Emergency Coordinator

The Parish Emergency Coordinator provides leadership and guidance to the parish in advance of, during, and following a crisis event.

This individual should be a prominent member of the congregation, familiar with its facilities and families. They must be available to enact the emergency plan and to oversee the collective activities of Parish Emergency Committee members.

In order to meet the spiritual and emotional needs of the congregation and community, ordained clergy should not fill the role of Parish Emergency Coordinator.

Parish Emergency Committee

A Parish Emergency Committee should consist of 5-10 members, depending on the size and/or needs of the parish, and may include such individuals as clergy, lay members experienced in disaster relief/recovery, leaders of parish ministries, the Jr./Sr. Warden, Vestry members, and parish staff.

Establishing Parish Priorities

This guide will walk your parish through many of the most important considerations in creating and enacting an emergency plan, such as securing the facilities, protecting essential records, and serving the parish community.

Your Parish Emergency Committee is encouraged to identify the highest priorities specific to your parish, which will help guide your discussions and the creation of your plan.

Parish priorities should be simple and concrete, reflective of the needs and abilities of your congregation and the mission of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas (at right), and agreed upon by each member of your Parish Emergency Committee.

Examples may include:
- Ensuring the safety of older parishioners.
- Educating parishioners about emergency preparedness.
- Providing first-response relief to the local community.

Parish Priorities:

3)

4)

5)

Identifying Risks

Local Crisis History

Emergencies of the past can help to predict the future. Create a list of all local disasters and emergencies occurring throughout the past 50 years.

Though structures may have been built and steps taken in order to prevent these crises from happening again, do not assume that they are infallible. Man-made infrastructure may be insufficient to fully prevent some disasters.

Brainstorming Possible Crises

List out all potential disasters/emergencies, regardless of their actual likelihood, considering even the most extreme possibilities (i.e. chemical spill, fire, flood, mass violence, etc.).

Emergencies Most Likely To Occur

Review your lists of historic and possible crises, and identify the emergencies most likely to affect your community or parish.

List them below, in order of likelihood, and imagine each emergency from start to finish, identifying the means through which your parish emergency committee would receive warning, as well as a plan for evacuation or sheltering-in-place.

Risk Mitigation

Certain areas of the parish building may be more vulnerable to or pose greater risk in an emergency. Walk through the parish facilities and make note of vulnerable areas, then identify steps to alleviate these concerns. Enlist the help of an outsider; they may notice problem areas overlooked by those who see them most often.

Examples of vulnerable areas include:
- Large windows, vulnerable in tornadoes, hurricanes, and windstorms.
- Rooms with only one exit, which could hinder evacuation during a fire.
- Doors that do not properly latch or lock, allowing unwelcome visitors.
- Dead trees which can be uprooted and tossed about in high winds.
- Electronics, such as computers, which are not on surge protectors.

Securing the Facilities

Security System

All staff, Vestry members, and key ministry leaders should be equipped for the disarmament of the security system.

Only those with a need should be provided unsupervised access to parish facilities, and records must be maintained identifying those persons who have been granted entry.

If building security becomes compromised, re-secure the facilities by resetting system codes and/or changing locks.

Safekeeping of Records

In every parish and ministry, particular files and records are essential to continued functioning of the ministry following an emergency. Store these files securely both on-site and remotely.

With modern technology, preserving documents has become as simple as setting up an automatic daily upload of data and information. Electronic records and files can be stored online, on a remote server, or on a portable drive.

Paper copies of essential files should be stored in two locations, and original documents should be kept in water- and fire-proof containers and removed from the site in an evacuation.

Evacuations

Items to Bring in an Evacuation

Sometimes the only way to prevent damage and ensure the continuity of parish operations is to remove items from the site. Valuable pieces that should be removed and preserved whenever possible include computers, other portable electronics, and church heirlooms.

In addition, prepare and have ready a “church in a box,” containing items essential to holding worship, such as communion silver, a book of common prayer, and a hymnal. Even if the church building is damaged or inaccessible, services may continue with these items. In most cases, a member of the clergy should be responsible for this item, as they will be the person to lead services.

Alternate Worship/Operations Site

Communications

Contacting Parishioners

In an emergency, effective communication is essential, though normal means of sharing information may be compromised. As such, a system to contact leaders and parishioners must be established.

Considerations in creating this system should include the following:

- What are the up-to-date home/alternate addresses, telephone numbers (home and cell), and email addresses for each parishioner? How will you contact them in an evacuation?
- Do you know where your parishioners will be in an evacuation?
- Do parishioners know how to contact the Parish Emergency Coordinator and where they will be in an evacuation?
- If normal means of communication (phone, email) are inaccessible or unreliable, how will you send and receive information with parishioners and/or disaster committee members?

Parishioner contact information should be updated once or twice a year. For areas affected by hurricanes, this should be completed before June 1st.

A phone tree (see Appendix B for an example) is often a simple and effective way to disburse information quickly, however, the size of your parish will determine the best way to contact parishioners.

Addressing the Media

To ensure an accurate and positive representation of the parish and the emergency situation, only the Parish Emergency Coordinator and/or those delegated by him or her should make statements to the media.

For assistance in addressing the press, contact Carol Barnwell, Director of Communications for the Diocese at (713) 520-6444 or cbarnwell@epicenter.org.

Vulnerable Populations

Never assume that your parishioners will be safe in an emergency, or that they have taken the recommended precautions. In every congregation and community there are persons without a means of evacuation or the ability to prepare themselves and their homes for the worst. Find out who these parishioners are, and help them to become better prepared.

Examples of vulnerable persons within your congregations may include:
- Elderly
- Low-income
- Single parents
- Persons with limited physical or communication abilities.

These individuals and families may need additional information and assistance in order to prepare for and/or survive an emergency.

Community Preparedness

Local Preparedness & Response Organizations

Many communities have organizations trained to prepare for and respond to emergencies. Well-known groups include the American Red Cross, the Salvation Army, local interfaith organizations, clergy councils, local and/or regional VOAD (Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster), CERT (Community Emergency Response Team), and Offices of Emergency Management.

In addition, county judges, emergency management coordinators, and public alert systems provide vital information about preparedness, emergencies, and response.

Establish relationships with these groups as soon as possible; don’t wait until the emergency happens.

Serving the Community

In an emergency, the church has an opportunity to respond in love to a hurting community.

In accordance with the Diocesan mission to “serve Episcopalians and their neighbors,” discuss assets of the parish that may be valuable to the community in an emergency and the ways in which they can be used to offer relief.

Parish assets may include:
- Shower facilities.
- Large kitchen facilities.
- Food pantry.
- Money
- Busses/Vans

Identify an individual from the Parish Emergency Committee who will coordinate any relief efforts should they become necessary.

Partner Parish

Partnering with another parish within the Diocese provides an opportunity to both serve others and receive services in an emergency. Partnering parishes should be located in a separate region not susceptible to the same emergencies at the same time as your parish.

Partner parishes can serve as a center for communications, an evacuation site, or a source of relief volunteers, among other things.

Appendix A: Glossary of Terms Related to Emergencies

Biological hazard
Processes of organic origin or those conveyed by biological vectors, including exposure to pathogenic micro-organisms, toxins and bioactive substances, which may cause the loss of life or injury, property damage, social and economic disruption or environmental degradation.

Coping capacity
The means by which people or organizations use available resources and abilities to face adverse consequences that could lead to a disaster.

Disaster
A serious disruption of the functioning of a community or a society causing widespread human, material, economic or environmental losses which exceed the ability of the affected community or society to cope using its own resources.

Early warning
The provision of timely and effective information, through identified institutions, that allows individuals exposed to a hazard to take action to avoid or reduce their risk and prepare for effective response.

Emergency
A situation caused by unforeseen or uncontrollable events which necessitates aid or immediate action.

Emergency Public Information
Information that is disseminated primarily in anticipation of, during, or after an emergency that relates to the emergency and provides public safety or other information for the general welfare of the public.
Geological hazard
Natural earth processes or phenomena that may cause the loss of life or injury, property damage, social and economic disruption or environmental degradation.

Hazard
A potentially damaging physical event, phenomenon or human activity that may cause the loss of life or injury, property damage, social and economic disruption or environmental degradation.

Long Term Recovery Organization
A local organization intending to provide assistance to disaster survivors for whom government assistance may not be sufficient. Often involves not-for-profit recovery organizations, local emergency management, and other social service agencies.

Major disaster
Any natural catastrophe in any part of the United States that, in the determination of the President, causes damage of sufficient severity and magnitude to warrant major disaster assistance under the Stafford Act to supplement the efforts and available resources of states, local governments, and disaster relief organizations in alleviating the damage, loss, hardship, or suffering caused thereby. (FEMA)

Mitigation
Activities, programs, and systems intended to reduce the impact of an emergency.

Preparedness
Activities, programs, and systems existing before an emergency intended to support and enhance response to an emergency.

Recovery
A return to a state of normalcy, as determined by pre-emergency conditions, in an area affected by an emergency.
Response
Activities to address the immediate and short-term effects of an emergency or disaster, including immediate actions to save lives, protect property, and meet basic human needs.

Stages of Disaster
Mitigation, preparedness, response, and recovery.

Technological hazards
Danger originating from technological or industrial accidents, dangerous procedures, infrastructure failures or certain human activities, which may cause the loss of life or injury, property damage, social and economic disruption or environmental degradation.

VOAD
Voluntary Organization Active in Disaster; A collaboration of voluntary organization intended to promote information-sharing and cohesive activity in each stage of an emergency.

A phone tree can be created to fit congregations of all sizes. The above example portrays simple approach in which the Parish Emergency Coordinator contacts the parish rector and each member of the Parish Emergency Committee, who, in turn, provide information to two parishioners. Those parishioners would then be responsible to contact an additional parishioner, until each member of the congregation had been reached.

If any person within the phone tree cannot be reached within a reasonable amount of time and number of attempts, the caller should contact the next person on the list. Your parish emergency committee may wish to discuss how to address that situation in an emergency, as a lack of contact with an individual could indicate heightened concern for the person’s safety.
Appendix C: Recovery Checklist

Listed below are several tasks important in the aftermath of an emergency. These are a starting point toward recovery, and may have already been built into your emergency plan.

_____ Contact & convene with Parish Emergency Committee.

_____ Determine whether parish facilities are usable. If facilities cannot be used, contact alternate worship and operations sites to make immediate arrangements.

_____ Contact insurance company and notify of event.

_____ Take photos of damage.

_____ Contact parishioners to provide information as available and instructions as necessary.

_____ Notify ministry partners, suppliers, and others who regularly use the facilities of the situation and to provide instruction.

_____ Coordinate clean-up and repairs. Follow the recommendations of your insurance provider before contracting any repairs. Use caution in conducting clean-up and be aware of any hidden dangers that may have resulted from the event.
